

SEEK REMEDY FOR LAW'S DELAY

Commission, Chairman Outlines Plan to State Bar Association

Lansing, Mich., June 27.—Alva M. Cummins, of Lansing, chairman of the commission appointed by the governor to frame a bill to provide for a more workable system of practice and procedure in civil courts, outlined to members of the Michigan State Bar association in session here, some of the essentials to be recommended for the new law. He said, in part:

"We are earnestly seeking to prepare a bill which will accomplish these results, to make the law easier to find and the lawyer more sure that he has really found it; to simplify procedure where simplification is possible without making it uncertain and doubtful; to make the attainment of the final result less expensive and more expeditious.

"We have found it practicable to reduce the volume of law appreciably by the merger of sections and chapters treating of similar procedures. We shall not make as drastic proposals as some desire in the matter of abolishing forms of actions."

The report also outlines the following reforms: Simplification of legal terms used in chancery cases; make it lawful to serve process for appearance anywhere in state instead of only in county of defendant to suit; courts in law to be authorized to make orders restraining sale of stock involved in suit and also to issue orders prohibiting transfer of negotiable paper, possession of which is sought in garnishment suits.

Laws Delay Considered.

Attention also is given to the law's delay. It is proposed that all cases at issue on the tenth day before the opening of the terms shall be placed on the court calendar without further notice, and that all cases on the calendar for four terms shall be dismissed unless some cause is shown why no action should be taken. The commission will recommend that if a court finds he has made a mistake in directing a verdict, he be allowed to correct his error without the case going to the supreme court.

It also recommends that a man shall not be allowed a re-trial on an error unless it is an error against him, whereas now retrials are granted regardless of which side the error is committed against.

A special committee of the bar association appointed to investigate the work of the state commission endorsed the work thus far accomplished.

NEW SPECIES OF BEAN NAMED FOR COL. GOETHALS

Panama, June 27.—Prof. Henry Petter of the Panama Department of Agriculture, has discovered a new species belonging to the natural order of leguminosae, or the bean family, on which he has conferred the name Goethalsia, to perpetuate the name of the canal builder in botany.

Col. Goethals has had a number of children named after him, but this is his first honor of the botanic order. The leguminosae family, incidentally, knows no limit. Before Prof. Petter's identification of this new member it already had upwards of 7,000 species.

HELME WILL CAMPAIGN AGAINST "BEAUTY" LOTIONS.

Lansing, Mich., June 27.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner Helme is making preparations to launch a campaign against so-called beauty powders and lotions that are gaining a rapid sale in the state, and which, according to Helme, contain preparations that are very injurious to the skin. Helme says this is the season of freckles and many of these are being advertised to do remedies are being advertised to do away with the horrid marks. He will show how some of them are made and that for a cent one can make similar preparations.

Ambassador Narrowly Escaped Charge of Being Unpatriotic

London, June 27.—The American ambassador, Dr. Walter Hines Page, came near to being charged with lack of patriotism by the seven hundred American Salvation Army delegates on their official visit to him, but the misunderstanding was cleared by one of the embassy clerks.

The Salvationists made an American patriotic display on this occasion as has been rarely seen in London. Bands played American patriotic tunes, the American colors alternated with the Salvation Army banners and each of the paraders waved a small American flag as they marched through Victoria street past the window at which stood Dr. Page. The chief officers then paid a formal call on His Excellency. But in the matter of bunting, the embassy might as well have been one of the big shops along side.

"Where is the American flag?" asked one of the officers in a grievous tone of one of the clerks. "Our parade was simply ablaze with 'Old Glory,' and there isn't a single flag displayed at the embassy to welcome us. It doesn't look patriotic."

Patriotic Scruples Satisfied.

The clerk explained that the flag of the embassy has purely ceremonial duties to perform rather than patriotic or ornamental, and is displayed only on instructions from the state department at Washington.

This explanation was passed around and seemed to satisfy the patriotic scruples of the visitors.

On account of the comparatively small quarters, American diplomats without large private means necessarily maintain in foreign countries, Dr. Page was unable to invite the Salvationists to his home, and the embassy itself is likewise cramped. A reception in the street would have lacked dignity, so the delegates felt a disappointment in not being able to shake hands with him. They have been rather spoiled on their way over, they said, by Colonel Roosevelt, who fraternized with them, stood in snip-shot groups and answered to the familiar title of "Colonel" and "Teddy."

The American salvationists, who have been visiting London in parties, speak highly of their courteous treatment by the people.

PRESBYTERIAN FACTIONS IN SCOTLAND MAY REUNITE

Edinburgh, June 27.—The recent general assemblies of the two great factions of the Presbyterian churches in Scotland—the established Church of Scotland and the independent United Free Church—will be followed during the year by negotiations which are said to be promising for a union of these rival bodies, mending an historical quarrel.

Various sects broke away from the communion of the state church as far back as the seventeenth century, the secession being in protest against the alleged low moral state of the clergy and the political system of the established church. The established church sought to mend matters in 1834 by adopting the rule that no pastor should be thrust upon a congregation against the will of the people, but this was annulled in 1843. Negotiations for a union were renewed in 1907, but progress was slow until this year on account of the opposition of a powerful minority on each side. Even the former leaders of the obstructionists, however, are now urging union.

A constitution was drawn up by the recent assembly of the established church which concedes the spiritual independence of the free church but at the same time aims to preserve the traditions of the state church. It is this draft that will be the basis of further negotiations during the coming year, and the willingness with which leaders of both factions have taken up the subject leads the pacifists to hope for success.

ESTABLISHED AND THE UNITED FREE CHURCHES MAY GET TOGETHER SOON.

Edinburgh, June 27.—The success of American coal shippers in securing a large portion of the trade of the Mediterranean and strengthening their hold on that of French and Spanish ports is occasioning considerable misgivings among the colliery and ship owners of South Wales, who formerly held a monopoly of this trade. It has just been announced at Cardiff that the Americans have secured an order for 100,000 tons of coal from the Italian State Railways for delivery during the next six months, making a total of 300,000 tons for this year. Formerly the whole supply of these railways was secured from Wales. The Egyptian State Railways have also bought more extensively from America this year, diverting in this way some $2,500,000 from south Wales American coal cargoes are also finding their way to French and Spanish ports with increasing frequency.

The high price of Welsh coal and the cheapening of freights is held responsible for the change. American coal can now be delivered at foreign ports at from fifty cents to a dollar a ton cheaper than the Welsh product. The Welsh colliers are working to their full capacity and are fully booked for this year's capacity, but it is the future which the owner's fear, for the Italian and Egyptian orders could always be depended upon, whereas the orders now being filled are irregular.

TOWN HALL CHANGES ARE PROGRESSING SPLENDIDLY

VAULT ALREADY INSTALLED AND JAIL HAS BEEN MOVED TO NEW QUARTERS.

Although some delay has been encountered with the work on the exterior of the Laurium town hall and the addition to the north side, the remodeling of the interior is progressing very satisfactorily and some idea can be obtained of the arrangement of the various offices. Practically all of the partitions have been installed and good headway is being made.

The new vault at the rear of the present stairway has been constructed, making way for the moving of the clerk's office to that section of the old building. The present hallway, leading from the front entrance to the council chamber will be converted into a station for the hook and ladder equipment, which will be moved from the old hook and ladder hall under the same roof as the other equipment.

At the rear of the clerk's office will be situated the new council chamber, about the same size as the old one, but better appointed. Behind this will be a small room for committee purposes, and there will come the marshal's office with a side entrance and a door leading to the jail room in which have already been placed the two cells which formerly were located in the basement. The new jail room is a decided improvement on the old, being far more sanitary and better ventilated.

At the front of the addition being built to the town hall will be a tower, through which the stairs leading to the second floor will wind. At the side of this will be a narrow hallway leading to the council chamber and clerk's office.

The floor in the front part of the building is being raised to the street level, an improvement that is very desirable.

Contractors Vairo and Chatel should experience little difficulty in having the building and remodeling work completed within the time specified in the contract, ninety days.

Miss Anna James has departed for Detroit, where she will spend her summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kingston have departed for their former home at Central, where they will spend the summer months.

CHINA AS A SPOON MARKET.

The Chinese do not use knives and forks as we in this country do, but they have some use for spoons. Consul General Anderson writes from Hongkong that there seems to be no reason why some energetic American spoon manufacturer can not develop a market in China.

Before the Standard invaded China with its 7 cent lamps the Chinese had little artificial light. Now it is only a very humble candle that is without illumination by night.

So with the spoon John Chinaman knows what spoons are, having made them himself. Long, peculiar looking instruments they are, but spoons for all that, and serving spoon purposes just as well as our dainty designs. Spoons of German and Australian manufacture, made in imitation of native goods, are sold in increasing quantities in the Chinese department stores of Hongkong.—Indianapolis News
